A variety of carnival rides, game booths, and food concessions are available for the entertainment of young and old alike.

Urban Planning State Meet Topic

Randall County Commissioners heard Clarence Beckman report that Canyon is "way ahead of most of the state" as far as urban planning is concerned. "We are already into this thing," Beckman told commissioners at a regular session Monday in the Courthouse annex.

Reporting on a meeting of the Urban Planning Commission held this past week in Austin, Beckman indicated that the topics stressed included water, sewerage and transportation.

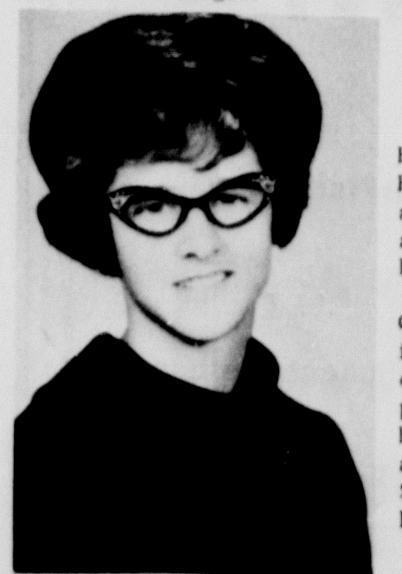

Participating were city managers, mayors, commissioners, judges and school principals from over the state. Those attending were urged to form regional planning districts with schools, counties, cities and water districts participating. They were told that Fort Worth and Dallas had joined in a 10-county district recently formed. Districts have also been organized in Wichita Falls and in the Rio Grande Valley.

The Federal government, will provide one half of the monies required for organization and planning. Following organization, the government will pay up to 80 per cent of costs. Presiding at the urban planning session was Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Petition Is Presented To Protest Rezoning

BY WAYNE BOARD

The main contention of the twenty-odd property owners who met with the Canyon City Commission Monday concerning a proposed rezoning in the northern section of the city, was that the move would decrease their property by one-half its present value.

The group, led by Canyon attorney Gene McGlasson, were protesting a rezoning of property on First Avenue from 17th to 18th St. and on Second Avenue from 13th St. to 18th St.

Carl Miller, who lives in the surrounding perimeter of the property to be rezoned, told the commission he had "some pretty badly run-down buildings across the street and it doesn't look like it will get any better—it might even get worse," Miller said his best defense would be to ask that his property too be rezoned as it might go up in value. "I don't know which way to go, but I'm not really against it," he stated.

City Manager Gary Gwyn told Miller he doubted that the property would need to be rezoned as it was already in retail zoning.

McGlasson, who was sitting in the commission room, left, and when he returned he asked if the city fathers really thought the meeting was a public hearing as only one person at a time was allowed to discuss their problem with the commission.

"We're not trying to hide anything," said Mayor Paul Lindsey and suggested that the commission move to the foyer of the building so everyone could hear and be heard, but told McGlasson, "I would like for the people to limit their talk to five minutes and I think they can say all they need to in that time."

Mrs. J.B. Smith, who owns a kindergarten in the surrounding area, said she felt rezoning would hurt her business and could not "have the children in a dirty zone."

A.R. Mickey, a representative of the Church of Christ told the commission the group liked the location and were not expecting any rezoning when they purchased the property.

McGlasson then presented two petitions that stated, in part, "the undersigned believe that

Approval Is Given Expansion Of PESO

US Congressman Walter Rogers has announced that Texas Cooperative Dissemination Project—an expansion of Panhandle Education Services Organization—has been approved by the US Office of Education.

Dr. Emmitt Smith, PESO director, said a total of $408,151, had been requested for the project and he felt sure the amount given the project would be about that amount. It is to serve the organization from Aug. 1 of this year to June 30, 1967.

A project that will involve 101 independent school districts located in the Panhandle and South Plains area of Texas TCD seeks to bridge the gap between origins of information relevant to the elementary and secondary school program and the classroom teacher.

It will screen, locate, recast store, retrieve and channel new information into elementary-secondary school curriculums. The project will also multiply and accelerate the impact of new information discovered and developed by national and regional research oriented endeavors, industry, graduate university research centers, and research oriented foundations, on elementary school and secondary school teachers.

TCD will be administered by the PESO organizations for the 101 school districts involved and will be located at PESO headquarters at 1601 Cleveland Street in Amarillo.

Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act differs from Title I, under which PESO could be established, in

Injured In Fall At Museum

George Brakebill suffered a dislocated shoulder Tuesday after a 28 foot fall from the third story of the Panhandle Plains Museum.

Brakebill, a WTSU student and construction worker on the new museum facility, was rushed to Neblett hospital where he underwent surgery. He is listed in satisfactory condition.

According to Richard Jackson, construction foreman, Brakebill was wrecking wooden forms when a nail in one of the forms snagged his trouser leg. The weight of the form pulled him off balance, causing the fall.

PROTESTING REZONING of a section in the northern section of the city were about 20 property owners at Monday's City Commission meeting. Gene McGlasson, Canyon attorney, standing, represented many of the group as they presented two petitions protesting the rezoning. Also shown are City Manager Gary Gwyn, left, Mayor Paul Lindsey with back to camera, Dr. J. Manly Bryan, seated, and Weyman Brown. No action on the move was taken by the commission following the public hearing.

EUGENE BONDS, center, will serve as a junior counselor for the annual Texas Youth Conference to be held in Austin, August 18-21. Bonds' trip to the conference is being financed jointly by the Canyon Study Club and the University Study Club.

Mrs. Don Sheffy, left, treasurer for Canyon Study Club and Mrs. James M. White, vice president of the University Study Club, are shown presenting Bonds with sponsor checks.

Outstanding CHS Students Delegates To Youth Event

Four outstanding Canyon High School students have been selected to attend the annual Texas Youth Conference on the campus of the University of Texas in Austin.

Sponsored by the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation, the annual conference will be held August 18-21. Delegates are selected from outstanding high school students in each county and are generally from the sophomore and junior levels, leaving at least one year for work upon returning to their schools from the conference.

Appointed as a junior counselor for the conference this year is Eugene Bond. Bond served as a delegate to the conference last year which is a prerequisite for his appointment. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Bond, will be a senior this fall at Canyon High School.

Last year, Bond was president of the Future Farmers of America at CHS, and was on the Eagle's Tale staff. He is an Eagle Scout and will be an officer for the Future Homemakers of America this fall.

Sponsor funds for Bond's trip to the conference are being jointly furnished by the University Study Club and the Canyon Study Club.

RC Heart Association Meet Set

Randall County chapter of the Texas Heart Association will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday night, according to Clark Jarnagin, chapter president.

The meeting will be conducted in the Randall County Commissioners courtroom and all members and interested persons are urged to attend.

Selected as delegates to the conference have been Bob Gruner, Roger Gist and Robert Olsen. Sponsor funds are being furnished by various civic clubs of Canyon and several civic clubs and other groups have yet to select their delegates for the conference according to Mrs. Clara Long.

Sponsored by the Canyon Jaycees, Gruner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gruner of Canyon. He will be a junior at CHS this fall where he has been selected as a representative for the Student Council and as treasurer for his class.

Gruner was recently named to the statewide 4-H talent tour. He received the highest honor in 4-H of Gold Star Boy last fall. Gruner also holds the chapter farmer degree in the Future Farmers of America chapter at CHS.

Canyon Rotary Club will sponsor the conference trip for Gist, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Gist, Jr. of Canyon. Gist will be a sophomore at Canyon High School this fall. He is a former member of the Student Council, has played with the band for three years, is active on the football team and is currently president of the Cleta 4-H Club. Gist also holds the rank of Life Scout.

Robert Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Olsen, will be sponsored at the conference by the Canyon Kiwanis Club.

Olsen, who will be a junior at Canyon High School this fall, is a representative to the Student Council, will serve as president of his junior class and is a candidate for the National Honor Society. He is also a member of the track and basketball teams.

Several additional clubs and organizations are expected to participate with sponsor-funds for a local high school student in the near future according to Mrs. Clara Long.

The general conference serves as a permanent delinquency prevention program for Texas and was originally sponsored by the Attorney General's office. The extensive growth of the conference in 1966 resulted in the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation assuming full responsibility for the program.

Included in conference plans will be a talent festival with winners to be featured on television and radio stations in Austin. The conference program and seminar discussions will include the organization of a teenage jury, community service projects, employment opportunities for youth, Operation Teenager, citizenship training and numerous films for use in school assemblies, youth meetings and civic club programs.

Putters Win Tournament

Winners of the "putting" tournament at Canyon City Club last Thursday evening were Al Craig and Ralph Needham.

Other winners were Floyd Childers and Frank Self, second; and Charlie Wilson and Charlie McCullough, third.

A tournament for putters will be held tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. at the club according to Sis Deeds.

Canyon Men Named To Equalization Board

An Equalization Board for the city was appointed last Wednesday night at a special session of the Canyon City Commission.

Those appointed are Dr. Dudley Moore, Dick Dawdy and Jim Christopher. Christopher will be a "carry over" from a previous city board.

City Manager Gary Gwyn said the three should be ready to meet within two weeks for their first session and at any time thereafter should the need arise.

Although Gwyn had previously discussed the possibility of having staggered terms for the board members so at least one member could acquaint new members with procedure, no mention of the arrangement was made Wednesday night.

Gwyn also told the commissioners he had talked with Jim McMorries, tax evaluation firm of Amarillo concerning a recent proposed merger that would consolidate the city and Canyon Independent School District tax offices.

He informed the commission that McMorries had indicated that it was not too late for the city to participate in the consolidation as early as this summer and the cost could be pro-rated over a five year period. McMorries said initial cost for a tax hearing would be about $500 and additional costs of about $4,500 to pay the city's pro-rata share for a re-evaluation and tax role.

Gwyn said McMorries felt there would be little increase in taxes in residential areas except in individual cases, but that taxes would probably increase in those sections of the city that were zoned for commercial use—especially vacant lots.

McMorries had indicated his organization would set up tax forms and possibly a ledger system instead of a tax roll, should the consolidated group decide to prepare their statements by computer. Gwyn explained that tax rolls were not required by law and that the method consumes too much time.

The Canyon Independent School board will act on the merger at their next regular meeting, July 26, said Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

Although city and school evaluation would be the same, rates charged by each body would determine the amount of taxes to be paid, said Mayor Paul Lindsey.

Under the consolidation, both groups would, by law, be required to have its own board of equalization, but they could meet simultaneously.

Commissioners tabled action on a decision to purchase health insurance for city employees until Dr. J. Manly Bryan, commissioner, could be present.

City Fathers also declined to make a decision on an action to deed property to C.N. Cosby at 14th Street, immediately south of the Santa Fe railroad tracks. Gwyn said no utilities were buried in the right-of-way, but City Attorney A.W. Laird would need to study the legality of the move.

Commissioners agreed to paint the water tower, that is being constructed south of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo grounds on West Texas State University campus white.

Gwyn said the tower would carry the lettering CANYON and that white paint would adhere to the metal surface better than aluminum and, unlike duotone, would not fade.

Also discussed at the meeting was a rezoning hearing conducted Monday night at City Hall. Property owners on 300 feet either side of the area as well as those directly affected were notified of the Monday meeting.

IN A PROGRAM OF protective maintenance carried on by the City of Canyon, portions of city paving receive Seal Coat treatment on a five-year rotation basis. At left, liquid asphalt is being sprayed on the street at the rate of three-tenths of a gallon per square yard. It takes 270 gallons of the liquid to cover the average 300 foot block. Distribution of the fine spray is through 50 spigots on the back of the asphalt truck. Second step in the process is the distribution of a layer of finely crushed stone, center photo. The spreader box is gauged to cover a ten foot swath with number six stone on each side of the street and then pick up the middle. Third step in the process, pictured right, is rolling with a pneumatic roller weighing approximately 25 tons. Three passes with the roller are made over the street the first day and the street is rolled again on two succeeding days.

New Yorkers Win Award

Raymond Raillard, executive vice president of the "TEXAS" Foundation, said the Amphitheatre production ran in Palo Duro Canyon State Park for fourteen performances before the award for the person coming the furthest was given to a resident of the United States. On the fifteenth show, Dr. and Mrs. Mike Abbateilleo from Farmingdale Long Island, N.Y. were given the award. The Paul Green musical will play nightly, except Tuesday, through Sept. 5.

City Paving Project Underway This Week

Fifty-six blocks of paving in the City of Canyon received a covering of Seal Coat this past week as a part of the city's protective maintenance project. Cost to the city was estimated at $8,247.

According to City Manager Gary Gwyn, streets receive the Seal Coat treatment on a rotating basis so that every five years, each block of paving will be covered.

"Contractors said our streets were in better shape than they've seen this summer and the best they had ever seen in Canyon. This is a real credit to the men in the street department. They were right out there after the snow

City Club Memberships Available

Associate memberships for the Canyon City Club are presently available according to Charles "Chuck" Allen, chairman of the board.

Memberships sell at $50 plus $10 per month and afford the buyer access to all facilities at the club with the exception of a building site and a vote on the executive board.

"We are hoping to get 130 associate members enrolled by the opening date for our new facilities," commented Allen. All persons interested in associate memberships at the City Club should contact Allen.

RCSP Wins 2nd Place

Randall County Sheriff's Posse took a second place trophy in the annual Swisher County Parade last Saturday in Tulla.

Some 24 local riders participated in the parade last week end.

and ice this spring to begin repairs."

Under a contract with J. Lee Milligan Co. of Amarillo, the streets receive a coating of liquid asphalt which is sprayed on. This procedure is followed by a covering of crushed stone and followed by passes over the street with pneumatic roller, similar to the process used in building a penetration type street.

According to Bud Buie, of the Milligan Co., the asphalt is sprayed in a 14 foot swath lapping about a foot in the middle of the street to build a high crown. This insures better drainage.

According to Buie, following the application of asphalt, "We shoot about a 10 foot swath of number six rock from the spreader box on each side of the street and pick up the middle in a third pass over the street."

"A pneumatic roller makes three passes over the street and then it is rolled again for two succeeding days. As the fine rock is pushed to the street edges by traffic, the rock is swept back toward the crown of the street and rolled again.

According to Gwyn and Buie, the fine, crushed rock being used in the program adheres well and is not a menace to car windshields.

Kenneth Laycock Coordinator

As another phase of the Panhandle Educational Service Organization, Dr. Kenneth Laycock, PESO assistant director, has been named the Northwest Texas area coordinator for the Southwest Educational Development Laboratory.

His appointment to the Laboratory that is established under Title IV of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 was announced by Dr. Edwin Hindsman of Austin, executive director of the Laboratory, which will introduce educational innovation throughout the two-state region of Texas and Louisiana.

Laycock will organize the Laboratory's task forces in the 50-county Northwest Texas area and will meet with school superintendents, college and university representatives and directors of other organizations -- businesses, industries, and cultural organizations -- interested in school improvement at the elementary and secondary levels.

An entirely new kind of educational institution, the Laboratory is financed by a development contract with the US Office of Education. By early autumn, Laycock and other coordinators expect to have projects ready in many sections of the two states for operational funding by the Laboratory utilizing funds provided through the US Office of Education.

Action research projects and demonstrations programs are planned for the Texas and Louisiana region, all with the single objective of improving educational opportunity for all the region's students.

In the Northwest Texas area Laycock will work with a 24-member Area Advisory Council, composed of eight representatives from elementary education, eight from secondary education and eight from higher education.

Working with the Laboratory Staff, the Northwest Texas Area

Council will establish priorities for educational research and demonstration in the Panhandle and North Plains area.

The first aim of the Laboratory staff is to have at least one research project ready to start immediately in the Northwest section of Texas when the Laboratory becomes operational.

Troop 197 Sets Court

A court of honor for Boy Scout Troop 197 will be held Friday at the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

At Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge Popular Recreation Spot

BY LORENA MILLER

Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, located 12 miles west of Canyon is a year-round recreation spot for people from a tri-state area.

The refuge is an important unit in a nationwide system of migratory waterfowl refuges. Some winters, more than one

A number of new improvement projects are underway at the lake currently according to Bob Brown, refuge manager. Brown has been manager of the vast project for the past three years. He was formerly assistant manager of a refuge near Monte Vista, Colo. Brown and his wife, Jan, have four

"We have closed off sections of the lake for re-development gradually this summer," explains Bob Karges, assistant manager at the refuge. Karges is new with the refuge staff, having been here for several months. He and his wife, Beverly, have two sons, Chad and Kip.

"They come unprepared for their weiner roasts--so they strip off the tops of our new trees, which have recently been planted, or they break off limbs of our larger trees to make forked fishing stands," Karges stated.

Only this year, the refuge has planted some three truck-loads of mimosa trees and a large number of weeping willows for improvement at the lake. Both old and new trees have been vandalized for firewood according to Karges.

By sections, the lake area is being improved for a better recreational area for the mid-west. A concession stand, located on the west side of the lake, is leased each summer to provide food and drink to visiting campers and fishermen.

Adjacent to the concessions area is the main boat launch on the west side of the lake. A new boat ramp has been built recently in cooperation with the State Highway Department according to Brown, refuge manager. Actual construction and funds for the ramp were provided by the State Highway Department. A large parking area is located near the ramp.

All visitors to Buffalo Lake should have an entrance permit. This is the first year that the refuge has been designated as a fee collection area.

Two types of visitor's permits are available including the $7 annual permit and the $1 daily. The annual permit is good nationwide on all federal areas designated as fee collection areas. Visitors may pick up permits from the Refuge Office, located 2 1/2 miles south of Umbarger, between the hours of 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on weekdays and 11-12 noon and 2-3 p.m. on week ends and holidays.

Improvements for fishermen have included the stocking of 400,000 walleyed perch frye during May 1966. The lake is primarily stocked with channel catfish and crappie according to Karges.

"But recently carp have become a problem and we needed some fish that would feed on the carp," related Karges, thus the reason for the stocking of walleye perch frye and some 100,000 northern pike frye during 1965.

The lake received stocking of large mouth bass and channel cat in 1963 and since then the lake has been stocked at least once each year. Funds for stocking the lake are provided by the state and federal governments.

Major purpose for the refuge is the migratory waterfowl which invade the area each fall. The birds find rest and safety at the lake, but must depend on surrounding farmlands for much of their diet of waste grain.

The refuge is located in the Central Flyway, one of the four major waterfowl migratory routes in North America. Other wildlife refuges in this section of the Central Flyway are at Muleshoe, Bitter Lake Refuge on the Pecos River in New Mexico, the Wichita Refuge in western Oklahoma, and the Kirwin and Quivira Refuge in west central Kansas.

Buffalo Lake Refuge has been administered since 1958 by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife in the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior. Formerly it was known as the Tierra Blanca Water Conservation Project, under the U.S. Soil Conservation Service (1937-1954) and the U.S. Forest Service (1954-1958).

The earthen dam that created Buffalo Lake was built in 1938 by the Soil Conservation Service as a joint wildlife conservation and recreation project. Administration was transferred to the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife in recognition of the high wildlife values involved.

Buffalo Lake, when full, occupies 2,358 acres. Tierra Blanca Creek, on which the lake is located, is an intermittent stream which has its origin in Curry County, N.M., some 70 miles west of the refuge.

Below the refuge, the Tierra Blanca Creek joins Palo Duro Creek which empties into the Red River.

The principal duck species wintering on the refuge are mallards, pintails and American pidgeon. During migrations, other species appear in lesser numbers, including green-winged teal, blue-winged teal, shovellers and gadwalls.

Among those kinds of ducks that dive for their food, a few lesser goldeneyes, as well as the scarce redheads and canvasbacks, may be found. Of the geese attracted to the refuge, the medium-sized sub-species of the Canada goose are by far the most prevalent.

The spring and fall months are best for observing other types of water birds according to Karges. Great blue herons are common and several species of gulls and shorebirds are usually present. Both the bald and golden eagles are winter visitors and several hundred bobwhites are to be found in the uplands where they frequent the small brushy canyons. A few quail are occasionally seen in the open grasslands.

Although the throngs of waterfowl must find a good part of their food in nearby farmlands, they do find a considerable amount of food on the refuge as the result of some 220 acres that are cultivated by the refuge personnel to produce duck and goose feed.

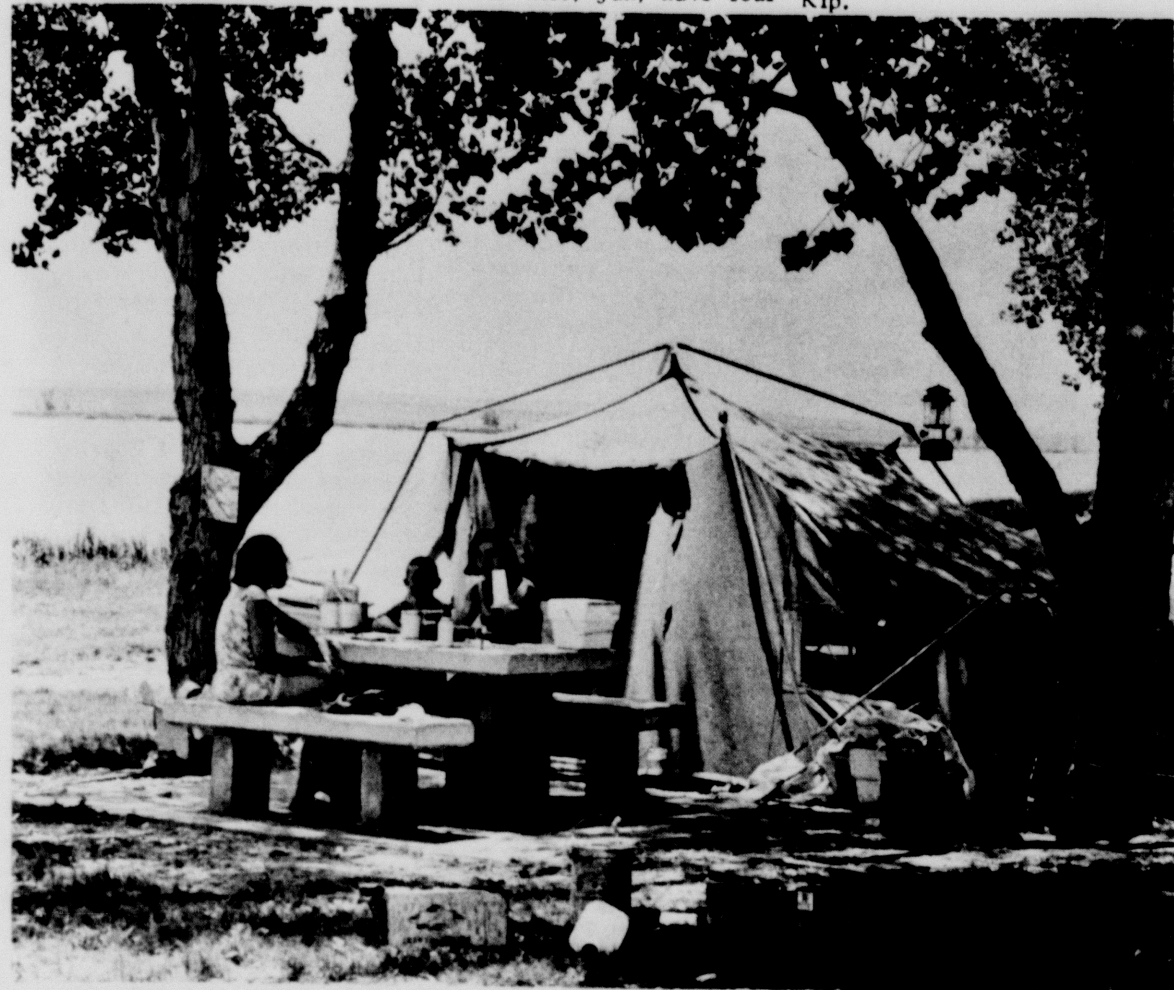

With the exception of the upper south portion of the lake and surrounding area, the lake refuge is open to visitors the year around. The upper reaches of the lake are closed to all public use during the waterfowl hunting season.

"No hunting is allowed on refuge land," explained Karges. A majority of the lake is closed to boating and skiing during the winter waterfowl use season of November 1-February 28 according to Karges.

The "wildlife and people's refuge" provides much public recreation for residents of Randall County as well as visitors from throughout the Texas Panhandle, and from nearby New Mexico and Oklahoma.

BOATING AND SKIING is a summer pastime for many local residents at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge. A boat is shown here being unloaded at the new boat ramp on the east side of the lake.

PICNICKING IS A SUMMERTIME activity for many area residents who inhabit the facilities at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge. These campers have set up their tent near a newly constructed picnic table, which is a current improvement project at the nearby lake.

million wild ducks and 25,000 geese can be found at one time on the 7,677 acre area. Here the birds find rest and safety during the four months from November until February.

The remainder of the year, especially during the summer, Buffalo Lake Refuge is as much a "people's refuge" as it is a place for wildlife.

In recent years, nearly 400,000 visits have been made to the lake annually by fishermen, boaters and picnickers, so the area is in constant use.

sons, David, Douglas, Donnie and Danny.

Brown explained that picnic tables and grills are currently on order and will be placed at intervals around the lake in the newest improvement project there.

A recent addition to lake facilities has been the completion of 2.7 miles of road-work on both the east and west sides of the lake in the popular beach areas, which are used more heavily by picnickers and boaters.

Closed sections of the lake have primarily been on the west side according to Karges.

The general improvements being made have included preparation of a main thoroughfare road and the erection of picnic tables, grills, additional restrooms, and steel-rope barriers to mark the parking areas.

"We hope to keep the cars confined away from the edges of the lake so that we can build up nice, grassy picnic areas in the future," said Karges explaining that automobile and people "tracks" gradually erode the surfaces of the area and then along comes the wind and water to make the areas even less desirable.

"When erosion from the automobile tires and people's walking gets a track beat out--the wind and water have a headstart on their job," commented Karges.

Other hazards encountered at the "people" refuge according to Karges is the littering around trashcans and along the edge of the lake. "It takes six men to keep the trash picked up," said Norman "Smokey" Stover, general foreman. Stover has been with the refuge almost seven years.

"When they throw broken bottles in the lake and around the edges we have problems with people getting severe cuts sometimes," commented Karges.

"Some picnickers just don't care," said Karges explaining that some 300 trash cans are placed around the lake edge. Stripping of trees has also been a major problem, according to Karges.

VISITOR'S PERMITS are being sold by Marie Mayfield, refuge secretary, throughout the week and on week ends. The lake was selected as a federal fee collection area this year for the first time. Permits are $7 annual and $1 daily. The annual fee also covers other federal areas designated as fee collection areas.

According to Arnold Prichard, manager, the farm store at elevator #2 will be closed and the new store will be stocked with all farm supply needs including feed, seed, chemicals and hardware. The Association will continue the sale of butane.

"RAR asked for 45 working days to complete the building and we will probably be open three weeks after that," said Prichard. "The scales are supposed to be back in use in five weeks."

COOK OF THE WEEK Shares Family's Favorites

BY LORENA MILLER

Mrs. C.S. Thompson, mother of five, shares her family's favorite recipes for Oatmeal Cake and Cucumber Salad with our readers this week.

Mrs. Thompson is the former Beth Ferguson, who was raised near Vega and Hereford. She is a graduate of Vega High School and was a pre-law major at West Texas State University for two years prior to her marriage in 1947 to C.S. 'Doc' Thompson of Canyon.

Our homemaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Ferguson, now live in Colorado Springs, Colo., and a brother, Morris Earl Ferguson, lives at Rocky Ford, Colo.

Raised at O'Donnell, near Lamesa, Mr. Thompson has four brothers and three sisters including Mrs. C.W. Stubblefield of Canyon. Other members of the family are Mrs. Ray Debenport of Amarillo, Mrs. Farrell Farrington of Lubbock, James Thompson of Vega, Guy Thompson of Crosbyton, Floyd Thompson of O'Donnell and Dave Thompson of Shiprock, N.M.

The Thompsons have lived in Canyon since their marriage in 1947 and are owners and managers of Buffalo Cleaners. They formerly owned the Modern Cleaners on the courthouse square, so they have been in the clothes cleaning business for approximately 15 years.

Mr. Thompson has a bachelor's degree in industrial art from West Texas State University and a master's degree in administrative education from WT. He teaches at Sam Houston Junior High in Amarillo, a position he has held for the past ten years.

Members of the Church of Christ of Canyon, Mrs. Thompson teaches a third grade Sunday School class and her oldest daughter, Karen Sue, instructs the 2-3 year old kindergarten class at the church.

The Thompsons have five children including Tommy Clay, 17, who will be a senior at Canyon High School this fall. He was elected president of his senior class and has lettered in football. He was president of the Science Club last year.

Karen Sue, also 17, will be a senior at Canyon High School this fall. She is active in the Science Club, Foreign Language Club and the CHS Band. She is a senior scout in the Canyon Girl Scouts and is a student of piano.

An athletic member of the family, David Ray, 15, will be a sophomore at CHS this fall. He is active on the track and football teams and was a member of the Future Farmers of America last year. He also served on the Student Council.

Youngest of the Thompsons children are twin daughters, Kim and Karla, age 7. Both will be second grade pupils at Rex Reeves Elementary School this fall. The twins are taking lessons for baton twirling, tap dancing, ballet and acrobatics.

"The children are a busy bunch," said Mrs. Thompson explaining that her oldest son, Tommy, is employed with the City of Canyon for the summer. Daughter, Karen, is spending the summer at various baby-sitting jobs and son, David Ray, is working at yardwork and odd jobs on neighboring farms.

"The twins help out with our garden patch and around the house," commented Mrs. Thompson.

Gardening is one of Mrs. Thompson's favorite hobbies during her summertime leisure, since she normally works during the fall at the cleaners. She has been doing some pre-school sewing for her daughter's wardrobes.

"Our favorite family hours are during the evening," smiled Mrs. Thompson, "after the chores we have a family relaxation period together."

The family relaxes in a modern den which has only recently been completed by Mr. Thompson. The home in which the Thompsons live has been built "from-the-ground-up" by Mr. Thompson with the assistance of the rest of the family. The home sports four bedrooms, a formal livingroom, kitchen and dining area, den, and downstairs addition.

Located just east of Canyon, the home is one of three built by Thompson for his family to live in. Thompson has also built several other homes in Canyon during his career.

The home is decorated throughout with pieces of furniture built by Thompson. Among the items he has built for the family home are a breakfast nookcase, table and chair combination, and various other pieces.

"I get my share of building in the re-upholstery of furniture," said Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson also does a majority of the painting for the home and is instrumental in the planning and design of the homes.

Of her recipes, Mrs. Thompson declares "they're easy, quick, and delicious."

Accident Injures Resident

Larry Leon O'Daffer, 2110 3rd Ave. was listed in fair condition at Neblett Hospital and Clinic following an automobile accident about noon Thursday on US Highway 287 and the Buffalo Lake Road about five miles south of Canyon.

Investigating officers said O'Daffer was traveling east on the lake road and, as he attempted to apply his brakes, the car flipped, clipping an electrical pole.

A woman who arrived at the accident occurred, was walking toward the wrecked automobile and as she neared two electrical wires that had been felled, was knocked to the ground. She had left the scene before officers arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and daughter, Carolyn, visited Saturday evening in Tulia with her sister, Mrs. Wylie Hannah, and family. The two families attended the Swisher County Celebration Saturday evening.

Golf Enthusiast

Sees Golden Spread As Recreation Area

"We think there is tremendous potential--this area should be developed as a recreational area for the Golden Spread. It's a natural, with Palo Duro Canyon, the Amphitheatre, and Buffalo Lake. That's why we are pulling up roots, deep roots of 45 years and moving over here."

These views are expressed by Tom Rose who has recently become a partner in the development of the Hunsley Hills Golf Course.

Rose, a former mayor of Pampa, describes himself as a golf enthusiast. "I will be in control or in charge of any golf facility at Hunsley Hills. I believe the golf course should be where the average weekend golfer can enjoy it."

"The first thing we did was look over the entire golf course to see what needed to be done, mowing, getting greens in shape for play and locating sprinkler risers." This was followed by a "manicuring" of the nine completed greens which began last week.

A full time golf professional has been hired and negotiations with a full-time greenskeeper are being made at this time. The golf pro will be in charge of the golf shop and the greenskeeper will work under his direction.

While most of the greens on the front nine were receiving the manicuring treatment and being watered, greens number 1, 3, and 5 were being altered. "The holes, in my opinion were nearly impossible, just too difficult for the weekend golfer."

While the greens and fairways are being altered and the front nine is being made ready for an Aug. 1 opening, Rose has been busy ordering needed equipment, gang mowers, spiking machines, purchasing commercial fertilizers and ALTERATIONS on the greens at Hunsley Hills Golf Course are being supervised by Tom Rose, partner in the project and head of all golfing activities. Providing the manpower and earth-mover for this project is Jim Tom Harris of Amarillo, left.

CLIPPING GREEN Number 3 to 5/16th of an inch at Hunsley Hills Golf Course is Tommy Stewart, known to area residents as a guitar picking cowboy in the Amphitheatre production of "TEXAS". Checking on progress at Green Number 3 is Tom Rose, the man responsible for all golfing activities at the course. This green, which contains 23,000 square feet in size, is the largest in the State of Texas.

"In relation to the second nine, we plan to have it open by spring, all 18 holes, with Mother Nature's cooperation. We also hope to have some of our buildings completed by then."

"These include a golf shop, where you pay fees, buy golf balls, rent carts, club repairs, a snack bar, club storage facilities, storage for equipment such as carts, machines and a repair shop (equipment barn.)"

"We plan to have local tournaments, organize men's golf associations, women's golf associations and sponsor pro-am and handicap tournaments."

"We also plan to have our pro give free golf lessons one day a week for local golfers... men, women, and children."

"We intend to work with the athletic department of the University and during weekdays students will be able to use the course at a reduced rate."

"These things are plans. Right now the most important thing is to get the course in shape and turn them into play." Rose, who has already moved to Canyon, will move his family down later in the year. They have purchased a lot in Hunsley Hills and are planning to build. They have one son, Tommy, who at age 16 is an ardent golfer and member of the Pampa High School Golf team.

Rose, originally from Chillicothe, has lived in Pampa for 45 years where he has had the Oldsmobile-Cadillac dealership. He is a graduate of Oklahoma University, a member of the Rotary Club and Masonic Lodge and is a past president of the Pampa Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose and Tommy are members of the Pampa First Baptist Church.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Mercer during the week end were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maple, of Fritch.

Dr. and Mrs. Michael Abbatiello of Long Island, N.Y., are visiting this week with her parents, the George Franks.

grass seed and making arrangements for the planting of the back nine.

The course will be open to greens fee players at the rate of $1.50 during the week and $2.50 on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The golf course will be closed one day a week, on Tuesdays. Persons who are members of the Hunsley Hills Country Club automatically have use of the golf course and other golfing facilities.

The second nine, which was laid out at the same time as the first nine, was also designed by golf course architect, Henry Hughes of Denver, Colo. Other courses designed by Hughes include those at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Buena Ventura in Mexico City and in Scottsdale, Ariz.

"To develop the back nine and make this into an 18-hole course we will have to put in a complete underground sprinkler system, prepare the ground and tee boxes, seed fairways and greens and then begin landscaping."

The greens are being planted in Seaside bent and tees, boxes and fairways will probably be planted in three grasses, buffalo, Kentucky fescue and bermuda. Seaside bent grass is a cool weather grass which is dormant now. "The best time to plant is from the middle of July until September."

The cost of developing each green runs from $6,000-$15,000 depending on the structure of the green. This is for the base golf course and does not include landscaping. "Trees in excess of 3,000 have been planted in the past and we expect to plant more in the fall. We'll be doing that for the next 10-15 years."

"To water the greens and fairways, two wells have been used in the past. Today we have added three more."

Rose stressed the advantages of the course location. "We have unusual terrain for this country, we are in a strong population area and there is plenty of shallow water. We get water at 36 feet which makes it less expensive to produce." The course is also located along the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River which is spring fed.

"As far as the first nine is concerned it is a matter of working from daylight to dark to get ready for play by August 1, that and rebuilding bridges and I haven't even started that."

OLD TIME COWBOY, C.F. Reynolds, reminisces of the "good old cowboy days" as he looks at a collection of pictures of horses that have been important to him during his lifetime.

Horseback Experiences Recalled By Reynolds

BY LORENA MILLER
C.F. Reynolds is an "old-time" cowboy who was reared in Randall County since his arrival here at the age of 7 in 1901.

"We came west by covered wagon," recalls Reynolds. "It took us two weeks on the trip here from Grayson County and we had a hack and buggy with us too."

"We didn't bring our household belongings because the covered wagon was full with us thirteen children."

Capers Plan Square Dance

A highlight of the annual Randall County Reunion and Roundup will be the street dance on the courthouse square Saturday night at 8:30 p.m.

Various square dance clubs from throughout the area have been invited to attend the event. Spectators are invited to participate and watch the festivities.

At a recent meeting of the Canyon Capers, dances were called by Knox Day and guest caller, Bill Scott of Port Arthur.

Guests for the meeting were Chuck and Louise Gorton of Rantoul, Ill., Bill and Anna Scott of Port Arthur, Darrell and Vera Swindell and Don and Clara Woolsey, all of Amarillo, and Debbie Gaylord of Guymon, Okla.

Son Visits John Planks

Mr. and Mrs. Rhett Plank and daughters, Desiree and Noel of Houston have been visiting for several days in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Plank.

The Rhett Plank family also vacationed in Colorado before returning to Houston where he is a student of law at the University of Houston. Mrs. Plank will teach this fall at the Broadway Baptist School.

laughed Reynolds.

Reynolds is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Reynolds who owned ranching operations west of Canyon. He is the lone survivor living in Randall County with the exception of three nephews, Roy, Earl and Ray.

"I've spent practically all of my life on horseback," said Reynolds.

At the age of 15, Reynolds joined a cowcamp near Quitaque where some 15,000 steers were being worked. He still recalls a visit with the foreman some 40 years later.

"We had a great visit--and the foreman said I sure had grown up during the 40 years we hadn't seen each other," laughed Reynolds.

"When I was at home, we seldom came to town for anything," said Reynolds. "And Amarillo was out of the question--it was too far and then too, Dad wouldn't let us drink."

"Horses just weren't made to cover too much ground like these harnessed horses we have nowadays," commented Reynolds. Reynolds attended public schools at Canyon and recalls a "ride through the schoolhouse on Wilford Taylor, Sr.'s old black horse".

But the teacher "caught me at the front door". "They had barbed wire when I first came to West Texas," recalls Reynolds.

"But all of the trees in Canyon were just windmill towers. There just weren't any trees on the plains in those days."

Among Reynolds' early recollections was a job at the age of 17 in a cowcamp near Happy. "That was when I had my first ride on a train," said Reynolds, "and it scared the daylights out of me. I was really shaking in my boots by the time we had come to Canyon."

Reynolds recalls that the main railroad, going west, was already built when he came to Canyon in 1901 but the tracks leading south were built after his arrival. "That first train puffing south was sure a sight," said Reynolds.

Local Woman To Attend WTCC Meeting

Mrs. T.B. McCarter, chairman of the Randall County Historical Survey Committee has received an invitation from John Ben Shepperd, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to attend a historic discussion at Lamshead Ranch in early August.

Shepperd's invitation reads in part "your viewpoint as a woman and leader is essential to the attainment of the goals set forth by the WTCC."

Main item on the agenda will be reports from a series of 22 brainstorming sessions with experts in the fields of tourism, industrialization, water, agriculture and ranching, petroleum and chemicals, education, public affairs and culture from a West Texas viewpoint.

The August discussions will be held at Lamshead Ranch near Albany from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. on August 5.

Mr. Earl Campbell of Killeen is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ritzer, 1003 3rd Ave.

PUBLIC NOTICE

To All Citizens

The Federal authorities are trying to limit by Federal law your right as a citizen to contract freely with persons of your choice in the sale or rental of property.

The problem is protecting YOU against Federal civil and criminal penalties and harassment by Federal authorities, if any complaint is made that you discriminate (by reason of race or religion) in the sale or rental of living quarters. Unless you have competent witnesses to every transaction, YOU WILL HAVE NO PROTECTION.

A FOOT IN THE DOOR

The proposal as submitted to Congress applies to every home, apartment, room in a home, and residential land.

Now, because of public outcry, it has been amended by the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives to exempt owners of 4 units or less, but only if they live on the premises. However, if you as a home owner desire to exercise your freedom of choice in renting or selling, you may not be able to engage the services of a broker because the law would prevent his executing an agreement with you if it reflects any preference on your part.

A PRINCIPLE IS AT STAKE

Is the owner of a 5-unit (or more) property entitled to less protection from Federal harassment than the owner of 4 units, or 3, or 2, or 1--your own home?

Is a 5-unit building to be labeled as interstate commerce (and thus subject to Federal regulation)? If so, how long before the 4-unit, 3, 2, or your own home will be added?

If it is constitutional to restrict your freedom of contract in the sale or rental of 5 units, what is to prevent its being applied to your own home?

DON'T BE FOOLED

This is the "foot in the door"--the camel's nose under the tent! It would subject each citizen affected to:

1. Denial of freedom of choice in sale or rental.
2. Expense of defending against complaints filed with a "Federal Fair Housing Board," with powers similar to the National Labor Relations Board.
3. Expense of defending against the U. S. Attorney General in action filed on behalf of the Federal Government.
4. Expense of defending against complaints filed in Federal District Court.
5. Proving himself INNOCENT of THOUGHTS which the bill would make unlawful.

WHAT TO DO:

WRITE TODAY to your Representative in Congress and to both your U. S. Senators. Tell them what you think. Title IV of H.R. 14765 (in the Senate S. 3296) in whatever form it appears, denies freedom of choice by Federal law. By attempting to protect some citizens it endangers the rights of ALL citizens. Don't let this "foot in the door" legislation fool you! WRITE TODAY! NOW!
